Background

The recent launch of the federal Indigenous Loan Guarantee Program (“ILGP”) moves Indigenous economic reconciliation from discussion to action. This historic milestone helps make participation in Canada's economic prosperity a reality for the country's Indigenous Peoples. It helps remove historic barriers to inclusion in the economy while creating new possibilities for maximizing growth that will benefit the entire country. The economic success of Indigenous Peoples is the success of all Canadians.

To advance Indigenous economic reconciliation for Canada meaningfully, the opportunity must be given to Indigenous groups to become leaders and equity partners in these projects. ILGP will reduce the cost of capital for Indigenous groups across the country and support their ability to raise capital to invest in, and become commercial partners in, natural resources and energy projects.

The magnitude of the economic opportunity for Indigenous Peoples and for the country is considerable. A recent report from the First Nations Major Projects Coalition (“FNMPC”), estimates that nearly 500 major natural resource projects—affecting Indigenous lands and representing roughly $570 billion in capital investment—will be developed in Canada over the next decade. More than 80 percent of these projects will be in the Energy sector, with the remaining 16 percent in Mining and four (4) percent in Forestry. ILGP will help to unlock access to equity investments in many of these natural resources and energy projects across the country.

As part of Budget 2024, the Government of Canada pledged $5 billion to the program and mandated Canada Development Investment Corporation (“CDEV”) to lead its launch and delivery. CDEV will deliver ILGP through a subsidiary company (the “Company”) and is looking for a leader who will be the driving force behind the Company’s launch to serve as the Director of Development and Stakeholder Relations.

The Organization

ABOUT CDEV

For over forty (40) years, as a federal Crown corporation, CDEV has provided the Government of Canada with unique and specialized financial advisory around the country's most complex and diverse commercial interests. CDEV reports to Parliament through the Minister of Finance and to its own board of directors. CDEV has a long history of leading critical financial transactions, including launching and operating new entities to help Canada achieve its goals and maximize the value of government assets. In addition to providing financial advisory to the government, CDEV oversees and is responsible for the CDEV Group of Companies, with over $55 billion of assets under management. Certified as a "Great Place to Work Canada," CDEV is a collaborative, high performing, experienced and commercially focused organization that will provide critical support to the Company through its launch and beyond.

ABOUT THE COMPANY

Operating as a wholly owned subsidiary of CDEV, the Indigenous Loan Guarantee Program Company (ILGPCo) is being established to unlock access to capital for Indigenous groups. While Indigenous groups are now consulted on energy and natural resource projects, there are historical, systemic, and legal barriers that can impede them from participating in and benefitting from these economic opportunities. ILGP is a direct response to calls to action to address such barriers, specifically, the access to affordable capital gap. ILGP will reduce the cost of capital for Indigenous groups across the country and support their ability to raise capital to invest in natural resources and energy. ILGP will facilitate Indigenous groups in becoming meaningful equity partners, on their terms, to derive significant financial benefit from ownership in natural resource and energy projects.

By offering loan guarantees, ILGP will facilitate more favorable borrowing rates, promoting increased Indigenous ownership of cash-generating assets in the natural resource and energy sector and delivering higher cash flow from their equity investments.
